

2019-2020 MASTERS PROGRAM – INSTRUCTIONS (RULES)

Monday, November 18, 2019

Dear Members,

the Master Program to which you are going to participate is structured in a manner very simple with few clear rules of coordination and with a bureaucracy brought to the minimum extent. There will follow some indications on the modality of communication within the Master's Program, in particular between the participants and the program office (Secretariat)

1. LANGUAGE

The official languages of the Master's Program are English and Italian. The workshops are therefore all bi-lingual. We maintain however, that it is helpful, if not necessary, that non-Italian students learn Italian because, regarding the subject matter of the Master's Program, that is the relationship with archeology, knowledge of Italian is essential. A substantial part of the literature on the subject is in fact in Italian.

Communications from the program office (Secretariat) will be in Italian and in english.

2. MODALITY OF COMMUNICATION

During the entire period of the Master's Program, that is, from today to the end of March 2019, the principal means of communication will be electronic mail. It is therefore necessary that each of you monitor your mail every day, knowing that in some cases quick turn around dialogues by email will be necessary. The email address to which all communication will refer is the one you have used to date to communicate with me, that is,

premio.piranesi@gmail.com

Your responses to the emails from the program office should be as concise as possible and STRICTLY RESPECTFUL OF THE DEADLINE DATES IN THESE PROPOSALS. The program office will send out four types of email:

- The Call for participation

These are the notices that request participation in the workshops and in the other group activities organized by the Accademia. These mails it is always associated with a form to be filled in by each of the Members. A response to these emails is expected from all the enrollees. The answers must always be personal and not in group.

To the Call and respective form MUST ONLY REPLY THOSE WHO INTEND TO PARTICIPATE.

Any subsequent cancellations can be made later by sending a specific cancellation notice.

- Ordinary Mail

These are exchange communications between the students and the program office and can be either collective or individual. Each communication from the students to the program office, must have a specific object. PLEASE DO NOT USE THE SIMPLE "REPLY" MODALITY WHEN A NEW COMMUNICATION IS BEGUN CONCERNING NEW CONTENT. Otherwise is very complicated an orientation in the huge number of emails that accompany the management of the communication of the Master. If you have to ask questions, please, open always a new email and do not use previous communications.

- Administrative Mail

These are exchange communications between the students and the administrative office (from Ms. Maria Patti, mpatti@accademiaadrianea.net) and can be either collective or individual. These communications can be related to receipts of payment sending as well as to fiscal and personal data checking and/or other issues for administrative and fiscal purposes.

A response to these emails is expected if needed (in case of data requiring or issues to be resolved).

By the way we deeply recommend you to always include your complete name in the payment description when settling a payment for your enrollment fees, as indicated in the Master's Description.

I.e. "Application for Registration to MASTER ITINERANTE IN MUSEOGRAFIA, ACCONTO, John Smith"

Single Mail and Collective Mail

Email communication can happen by single email or by collective email. The Accademia, for its communication (requests for workshop participation, general and collective interest messages, change of schedules, times, etc.) will always send collective email.

To these email messages, participants should respond individually and from their personal email address.

Communications from the student enrollees to the Accademia program office, from one email address but referring to more persons are possible in cases of "request for information" or "collegial reflections", AND SHOULD ALWAYS SHOW THE CC WITH THE LIST OF THE SIGNATORS.

Our response will therefore be not only to the sender of the message, but to all the signers, with the modality "reply to all". Anyone can of course communicate individual to individual using the simple modality that have governed interpersonal communication to date between the participants and the program office.
